

ADVANCED HEALTH MANAGEMENT PROGRAMME

Dr. Philemon Masopha

Dr. Masopha is a Senior Manager in Clinical Advisory at Qalsia Healthcare, which is wholly owned by Metropolitan Health Group, now MMI Health.

The course allowed Dr. Masopha to interact, learn from, and share experiences with other health care role players in the country. "It is a rare opportunity to also link the theoretical academic information with the work environment and be in the position to propose practical solutions to my organization."

He enjoyed FPD's good services and he hopes that other higher learning institutions adopt their model.

"FPD is doing a great job to expose us to these international courses that open avenues for us to learn from other institutions like YALE and Manchester; this is very central to our country becoming an innovator and developing intellectual capacity to have a meaningful role and also be involved in determining or setting the pace of development in the highly dynamic global village. Africa can no longer afford to wait for external aid; we now need to develop our own home-grown solutions for SA and the whole globe."
