

HIGHER CERTIFICATE IN MANAGEMENT

Dr. Mischka Moodley

Dr. Moodley is a full-time PhD student at the Division of Medical Microbiology, University of Cape Town, funded by a Discovery Fellowship Award. Her research is mainly in the field of TB diagnostics where she is currently investigating novel diagnostics for the diagnosis of TB in predominately low resource settings. She is trained as a Pathologist (Medical Microbiologist).

She found the course to be extremely useful. Her daily activities have become more manageable because of the HCM course, especially the project management component. The skills acquired will be able to help in the day-to-day running of a pathologist's laboratory.

She highlighted the course manuals and lecturers as being "brilliant".

"I think that the FPD scholarships are great in assisting individuals in the healthcare sector to gain a strong background in management, which is not emphasised by any of the undergraduate or even postgraduate training that we receive. The skills I have gained from this course will assist in strengthening the services and research that I perform. The scholarships are also a great idea as they help individuals who don't necessarily have additional funding to get this training, especially students!"
